THE Numb. 155.

VIRGINIA GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Friday, July 13, to Friday, July 20, 1739.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 16.

THE Plan of Operations for the approaching Campaign has been ſettled in a grand Divan held a few Days ago, in which the Cham of the Tartars aſſiſted. It was propoſed to the Cham to make a Diverſion on the Side of the Ukrain; but he repreſented, that as it was uncertain what Movement the Ruſſians might make, he muſt ſtand upon his Guard, that he may be in a Condition to repulſe them, in Caſe they re-enter his Country; that as two thirds of the Crim was deſolate, he could hardly aſſemble 40,000 Men, with which he would obſerve the Movements of the Ruſſian Army; and that if they did not make any Attempt upon the Crim, he would endeavour either to make a new Invaſion into the Ukrain, or favour the Siege of Aſoph, in Caſe his Highneſs is ſtill reſolved to attack that Place. The Grand Seignior has approved the Meaſures propoſed by the Cham, and given Orders for reinforcing the Squdron deſign'd for the Black Sea, with 8 Sultanas and 14 Gallies.

Feb. 28. 'Tis not without Reaſon that we writ that the Porte ſeem'd ſomewhat uneaſy in Regard to Sarey Bey Oglou in Natolia; for we have ſince heard that ſhe has receiv'd certain Advice, that the Rebel acts in concert with the Baſhaw of Babylon, who has likewiſe revolted againſt the Grand Seignior: What augments this Uneaſineſs is, that our Advices from the Frontiers inform us, that the Perſian Army in thoſe Parts increaſes every Day, and it is appehended that this Army, when it enters the Ottoman Dominions, will join the Rebels in Natolia, and cauſe great Diſturbances in that Province. The Miniſters of the Divan do all that lies in their Power to deſtroy the Reports ſpread on this Subject, by giving out that a new Perſian Embaſſador is to arrive here in a ſhort Time, in order to make freſh Propoſitions, which are ſaid to be very favourable for maintaining Peace between this Empire and Perſia: It is certain, that an Embaſſador is actually on the Road hither; but it is well known that Orders have been ſent to ſtop him on his Journey, as much as poſſible, under divers pretexts. The Porte ſuſpects, not without Reaſon, that the Propoſitions which this new Miniſter is charged to make to the Divan, will not be more favourable than the former were, and therefore endeavours to delay his Arrival here, to the End that ſhe may make this Campaign in Europe without drawing upon herſelf a burthenſome War in Aſia, which would be a great Clog upon all the Grand Seignior's Meaſures.

Belgrade, March 13. N. S. The Inhabitants of Kutſche having receiv'd Advice, that Mahomet Baſhaw was marching with 7000 Turks to plunder and drive them out of the Country, to be reveng'd on them, becauſe about 2 Years ago 700 well diſciplin'd Men of their Diſtrict took the Field under the Conduct of their Patriarch, they unanimouſly engag'd, by Oath, with the Inhabitants of the neighbouring Places, to defend their Country the beſt they could; when they had done, the Enemy made an Incurſion into it as far as Orlevopolia, but they march'd againſt them, and attacked them in the Mountains in Front, Flank and Rear, with ſo much Bravery, that the Baſhaw was killed on the Spot, and out of 7000 of his Men, only 7 eſcaped. Two Deputies came hither yeſterday expreſs with this News, and the ſame is confirm'd by ſundry Letters.

April 8. They write from the Frontiers, that the Turks having ſent, from Widden to Orſova, a great Number of Barks laden with all ſorts of Proviſions, and Warlike Stores, above half of them were loſt by a ſudden Blaſt of Wind.

Petersburg, April 11. All that we hear about the Armies is, that they are in full March towards the Frontiers. The Court has received Advice that three of our Frigates, ſent out by Vice-Admiral Bredahl to get Intelligence concerning the Enemy, had taken a Turkiſh Veſſel bound to Beſſarabia; the Crew of which reported, that Dgianum-Coggia, High-Admiral of the Turkiſh Empire, was preparing to ſet Sail for the Black Sea with all the Ottoman Fleet; and that he had already ſent before him four Sultanas and ſeveral Galleys laden with all Sorts of Proviſions and warlike Stores.

Extract of a Letter from Petersburg, April 14.

'The 12th Inſt. the Court receiv'd Advice directly 'from Conſtantinople, that the Rebel Sarey-Bey-Oglou 'had entirely defeated the Army ſent againſt him by the 'Porte under the Command of the Kaimaikan, who loſt 'all his Artillery in that Action, and with great Difficulty, eſcaped with the Relicks of his Army: Thoſe 'Advices add, that Sarey-Bey-Oglou purſued his Victory ſo well, that having immediately march'd up to 'Aidin, a Fortreſs of no ſmall Importance in Natolia, 'he made himſelf Maſter of it, without ſtriking a Blow; 'and that the Loſs of that Battle, together with the Conqueſt of Aidin, has cauſed a great Conſternation in Conſtantinople, where they look upon this Chief of the Rebels, as a ſecond Thamas Kouli Kan.

Madrid, April 14. The Miniſtry has not yet declar'd itſelf in Relation to the Aſſiento Contract; unleſs the Britiſh Miniſter be very vigilant, the hungry French, who lie purdue, will ſnap up that Morſel of Trade from Great-Britain. After a very long Drought there has been for three Weeks paſt Rain, which gives People Hopes of a plentiful Harveſt: In the mean time Proviſions continue ſo exceſſively dear, that were it not for Corn brought by the Engliſh and Dutch Veſſels, a Famine muſt enſue; but very little has come from France, there being no Redundancy this Year in that Kingdom.

Extract of a Letter from Verſailles, April 23.

'The 15th Inſt. at Night, M. Amelot, Secretary of 'State for Foreign Affairs, received a Courier from London, whoſe Diſpatches appear'd to him of ſuch Importance that he went immediately to Iſſy to communicate 'them to the Cardinal de Fleury. The Earl of Waldegrave, Embaſſador from the King of Great-Britain, 'having complain'd to the Court of the Strictneſs with which 'the Arret of 1701 is put in Execution, which is of vaſt 'Prejudice to the Merchants of his Nation, his Excellency has been given to underſtand, that the Engliſh muſt 'not expect any Alteration in that Article, unleſs they leſſen the Duties on French Wines exported to England. 'Laſt Week Prince Cantimir, the Ruſſian Miniſter receiv'd ſome important Diſpatches from Petersbourg, 'which, we are aſſur'd, relate to our Court's delaying to 'ſend an Embaſſador to Ruſſia.

Extract of a Letter from Fort St. George in the Eaſt-Indies.

'Letters from Dilly ſay, that Schach Nadir, the famous Thamas Kouli Kan, had taken Candahar, Cabull, 'and two or three fine Provinces belonging to the Mogul; 'that the latter was endeavouring to buy a Peace with him;

'him; and that his very Name has ſtruck him with ſuch 'a Pannick that there was no Talk of any Army's march-'ing to oppoſe him.'

They write from Madrid, that the 11th of laſt Month, N. S. Mr. Keene and Mr. Caſtres receiv'd their full Powers and Inſtructions for opening the Conferences with his Catholick Majeſty's Plenipotentiaries. ----- But when they will begin, or when END, God knows.

Our Advices from Vienna are, that it is ſtipulated, by the King of Spain's Acceſſion to the Treaty between the Emperor and France, that the Dutchies of Parma and Placentia ſhall fall to the King of the Two Sicilies after the Emperor's Death, in which Caſe his Sicilian Majeſty ſhall cede to the Great Duke of Tuſcany the Maritime Places of that Dutchy, call'd Stati degli Preſidii.

Letters from Madrid ſay, that the Count de la Marck, whilſt the Aſſiento Contract is is Suſpence, leaves no Stone unturn'd to obtain a Treaty for the French Nation to ſupply the Spaniſh Colonies with Negroes, which would unqueſtionably, in many Reſpects, be a great Prejudice to Great Britain.

Vienna, April 15. The Emperor has order'd Public Prayers to be made in all the Churches, to implore the Divine Bleſſing upon his Arms againſt the Infidels, and the ſame will be opened with a ſolemn Proceſſion. 'Tis no longer doubted but that the Turks deſign to attack Temeſwar.

Vienna, April 28. They write from Temeſwar, that that the Infidels are getting ready a great Train of Artillery in the Neighbourhood of Meadia; and that they give out they intend to lay Siege to Temeſwar in a very little Time. As a Detachment of 16 or 17,000 Imperial Troops are march'd that Way, it is hop'd that the Deſign of the Turks will be prevented.

Letters from Conſtantinople, by the Way of Venice, confirm, that the Turks are making great Preparations for the Seige of Aſoph; and add, that the Grand Seignior appears reſolved call to home Count Bonneval from his Exile.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, May 1.

'It is given out here, that the Earl of Waldegrave, 'Embaſſador from the King of Great-Britain, has com-'plain'd to M. Amelot, Secretary of State for Foreign 'Affairs, that M. de Tencin, Archbiſhop of Embrun, 'was raiſed to the Dignity of Cardinal, at the Nomina-'tion of the Chevalier de St. George; and that the Court 'ſuffered his Eminency to let ſlip, in his Compliment of 'Thanks to the King for his Promotion, ſome Expreſſions, 'by which it ſeem'd that certain Pretenſions of the Che-'valier were tacitly acknowledged. They add, that 'the Britiſh Miniſter demanded, in the Name of the King 'his Maſter, a Declaration on that Head, which M. A-'melot has already delivered; but that his Excellency 'not finding it ſatisfactory, Complaints were immedi-'ately made about it to Count de Cambis, the King's 'Embaſſador to the Court of Great-Britain, before he 'left London. We are vaſtly impatient to know whe-'ther our Miniſters will give a more poſitive Declaration 'on this Subject.'

Extract of a private Letter from Lisbon.

S.* arrived here the Fleet from the Rio de Saneiro, conſiſting of 9 Merchant Ships, under Convoy of two Men of War, in 104 Days Paſſage, ſaid to come Regiſtered in Treaſure about 21 Millions of Cruzadoes, of which five or ſix Millions are for the King, the Remainder for the Commerce, beſides Diamonds the Quantity not known, about 6000 Hides in the Hair, and 2000 Cheſts of Sugar, with ſeveral ſorts of Woods; on the whole, the Fleet came very Rich in reſpect to the Value of the Treaſure.

York, April 10. Laſt Saturday Richard Turpin, the noted Highwayman, and John Stead, were executed at Tyburn, for Horſe-ſtealing. The latter died very penitent, but the former behav'd with the greateſt Aſſurance to the very laſt. It was remarkable, that as he mounted the Ladder, his right Leg trembled, on which he ſtamped it down with an Air; with an undaunted Courage look'd round about him; and after ſpeaking a few Words to the Topſman, he threw himſelf off the Ladder, and expired in about 5 Minutes.

We hear from Limington in Hants, that one Mrs. Mitchel was lately brought to Bed there of a Daughter, whoſe Great Great Grandmother is ſtill living, and has already ſeen her Fifth Generation, and all Daughters; ſo that ſhe may ſay the ſame that the Diſtich doth, made on one of the Dalburg's Family of Baſil:

1 2 3 4
Mater ait Natæ, die Natæ, Filia Natam
5 6
Ut moneat, Natæ, plangere Filiolam.

Riſe up Daughter, and go to thy Daughter,
For her Daughter's Daughter hath a Daughter.

She is about 92 Years of Age, is in perfect Health, has all her Senſes clear, and hopes to ſee five Generations more.

London, April 11. In the Book of Rolls of the Manor of Hatfield in Yorkſhire, we have a Record of a pleaſant Convention, 12 Ed. 3. between Robert de Roderham and John de Ithen, the latter of whom ſold the Devil in a String, for Three Pence Half-Penny to the former, to be delivered on the fourth Day after the Convention. When the Purchaſer making his Demand, the Seller refuſed to give him Livery, to the great Loſs (as the Record repreſents it) of Forty Shillings to the Purchaſer, &c. But it appearing to the Court, that ſuch a Plea does not lie among Chriſtians, the Parties were adjudged to Hell for Judgment. See Howel's Interpreter, and Chambers's Dictionary, under the Title Convention.

Mr. Clutterbuck, and the Hon. Admiral Cavendiſh, his Sons-in-Law, as Chief Mourners, aſſiſted by four Gentlemen belonging to the Office, in three Mourning Coaches and Six, and met on the Road near Rumford by a great many of his Tenants and Tradeſmen on Horſeback, and rid in Proceſſion before the Hearſe Two and Two, in Hatbands and Gloves, &c. to Horn Church in Eſſex, and buried in a Vault in the Chancel with the Lady Sudbury, his late Wife: The Funeral was conducted with the greateſt Order and Decency, the Populace very numerous, yet not offering the leaſt Diſturbance, or meddling with any of the Eſcutcheons that were on the Hearſe, 'til the Body was taken out, and the Hearſe drawn away.

We hear from Conſtantinople, that the Dread of Thamas Kouli Kan's pouring in upon the Ottoman Dominions, and the wretched State of Affairs in Natolia, which the Turkiſh Miniſtry take great Pains to conceal from the People, are Motives that make them wiſh for a Peace; a thing which no Body oppoſes but the Grand Vizir and his Partizans, in hopes of making a ſucceſsful Campaign.

The following is the Subſtance of the Articles of the Subſidy Treaty lately concluded between Great-Britain and Denmark.

All the Treaties of Alliance, Friendſhip, and Guaranty formerly made between the high Contractors, and alſo the Conventions concerning Trade, are renewed and confirmed by this Treaty.
